MatchAid Club Professional Portal

Overview

MatchAid

Greater Visibility.
Better Planning.
Better Member Service.

Organized member games take shape before the official reservation window opens. MatchAid provides club professional staff with earlier visibility into member play requests, helping the golf operations team plan course and tee-time capacity sooner and serve members more effectively.

Earlier Demand Visibility

See organized member-game demand forming before it reaches the tee sheet.

Better Capacity Planning

Plan course and tee-time needs with a clearer view of expected participation.

Smarter Release Decisions

Identify soft, full, or overfilled games before release deadlines create pressure.

Stronger Member Experience

Support organized games with clearer expectations and smoother communication.

Reduced Operational Churn

Minimize last-minute adjustments and uncertainty around organized games.

The Difference Earlier Visibility Makes

CURRENT PROCESS

Short Planning Window

BEFORE DAY 6

Member requests for play are forming across disconnected channels. Club professional staff have limited visibility into this demand.

DAYS 6-4

Tee-time blocks are requested while rosters are still taking shape. The club wants early release, but the demand signal is too fragmented to support it confidently.

DAY 3

The block is released, but the opportunity may be gone. Members who wanted that time may have already booked elsewhere or changed plans, making opened tee times harder to reuse.

GAME DAY

Final setup may still shift late. Pairings, player communication, and scorecard preparation can continue changing close to play.

WITH MATCHAID

Earlier Visibility. Earlier Release.

BEFORE DAY 6

Member play requests are captured in one place as they form. Club professional staff gain earlier visibility into expected demand before the reservation window opens.

DAY 6

Final preparations are based on a clearer demand picture. Game organizers and club staff can align expected player counts with tee-time block needs.

DAY 5

Unused tee times can be released earlier. Earlier release gives other members more opportunity to use those times.

GAME DAY

Final setup is more stable and predictable. Pairings, player communication, and scorecards are ready with fewer late changes.

THE RESULT

Greater visibility into member-game demand

Better Day-6 planning conversations

Earlier release of unused tee times

More opportunity to repurpose capacity

Smoother game-day execution and better member experience

Organized golf games. Less manual work. Better player experience.
